Be Cautious — Terrorist Activity Could Erupt Here!

By David A. Early, Deputy Chief, Romulus Police Department

The Romulus Police Department has received many inquiries regarding how citizens and businesses in our city should react to the perceived terrorist threat in and around this area.

Please note that I say "perceived" threat. We have met with the FBI, the United States Secret Service, and the Metropolitan Airport Operations directors. No agency has received any confirmed terrorist threat or identified any active terrorist groups in the Country as of this writing. There are extremist groups who are present today, were here yesterday, and will be here tomorrow. This is a free country.

Yes, there is reason to be cautious, and the possibility of terrorist activity is greater than it has been before in this country. The more threatening danger is overreaction.

The criminal element in this country is an ever-present fact of life. The chance of being a victim of terrorist activity, even in today's climate, is still far less than that of being a victim of the ordinary criminal acts which are an unfortunate part of our society.

The precautions to take today are the same ones that we should always observe, but which we sometimes forget. Be observant; look around as you walk or drive. Be conscious of suspicious behavior. As we suggest in our neighborhood watch groups, look out for your neighbors. You are more aware of what is normal and who belongs in your neighborhood than are the police or anyone else. If you see someone or something out of the ordinary, call the police. The fastest way to receive assistance is, as always, to dial 9-1-1.

In and around your place of business, you should remove or discard any unnecessary containers or trash. Keep storage rooms and unused office space locked. Keep outside areas well lit and free of obstructions to vision. Be attentive to any packages or other objects which are not identifiable or do not appear to belong. □

Romulus Police Increase Patrols in and Around the City

By David A. Early, Deputy Chief, Romulus Police Department

The Romulus Police Department has increased patrols in and around our local businesses and Airport facilities. The possibility of persons taking advantage of the international situation to express their own prejudices is always present.

This department and other law enforcement agencies will protect all residents of this country equally and fairly. Anyone directing harassment or intimidation at a group or individual because of their ethnic or racial background will be severely dealt with. The FBI, along with local agencies, has guaranteed that they will investigate and prosecute any such incident as a violation of Federal Civil Rights statutes.

We have learned to live our lives using common sense and taking certain precautions to avoid becoming victims of crime, but we generally live our lives in a normal manner. To change our lifestyle, live in fear of terrorism, and react to rumors and pessimism is just what the extremist factions would like to see. And they don't have to raise a finger.

Be aware of surroundings; use common sense; report suspicious activity; but do not become a prisoner of the current crisis. We support our officers and citizens who are being called to service. We offer them and their families our full support and best wishes. They represent the freedoms and liberty inherent in our way of life. Support them and enjoy your freedom. □

Local Resident Wysocki Pleads Guilty Sentenced to Serve 1½ to 15 Years on Criminal Sexual Conduct Charge

By Dave Atkins

Local resident, George Wysocki, is presently sitting out a sentence of 1½ to 15 years in Jackson Prison.

Wysocki pled guilty to one charge of criminal sexual conduct in the second degree. (He had been charged with four counts of the same crime.)

This was not the first time that Wysocki has been charged with sexual crimes. According to the Romulus Police Department, he was charged with accosting children for immoral purposes in 1964 and given two years of probation.

Wysocki, 47, is married, but it is not known if he has any children.

This particular crime, committed against a seven-year-old male, was reported to the police on April 5, 1990. The Prosecutor's Office issued a warrant charging Wysocki with four counts of criminal sexual conduct in the second degree. Just a few months previously, Wysocki had faced a similar charge in a case involving a young male in the same neighborhood, but was not convicted.

The presiding judge in this case was Judge Carnavale. The trial was a bench trial, which means that there was no jury involved because Wysocki had agreed to plead guilty to one of the four charges.

Wysocki was sentenced in January of 1991 and, according to the Romulus detective handling the case, Wysocki must serve two-thirds of his minimum sentence before becoming eligible for parole. That means that he could possibly be released within a matter of 12 months.

It is believed that Wysocki had lived in the City of Romulus for at least the last 10 or 11 years, and possibly longer. According to one source, members of the church that Wysocki attends could not believe that he had committed such a crime.

In another case in Romulus last week, a man was picked up for the armed robbery of two Total gas stations in Romulus. (No one was injured in the holdups.) If convicted, this man faces a minimum sentence of two years and a maximum sentence of life because he committed the robberies with a gun.

I find it ironic that our judicial system seems to value money more than the mental and physical health of a child. Of course, the judge could have given Wysocki a much stiffer minimum sentence, especially since he had been convicted of a similar crime in 1964, but this particular judge (who has been under fire in the past for his actions on the bench) chose not to do so.

Anytime a child is sexually molested and it can be proven that the defendant did, in fact, commit the crime, then it seems to me that he or she should be given the maximum sentence that the law allows to keep him or her off the streets for many, many years, and not just a few months.

There are many adult victims of sexual-misconduct crimes, and that is bad enough, but, when the victims of such crimes are children, male or female, it is time for the judicial system to take a closer look at its sentencing policies. Overall sentences should be much more harsh, with minimum sentences as close to the maximum as possible.

Even when no physical damage is sustained by the children who are victims of sexual crimes, they still face a lifetime of mental anguish. The law should really get serious about this matter. □

Romulus Servicemen To Be Honored

By Dave Atkins

The Romulus Arts Council is working with citizens and a local support group to acknowledge and honor our servicemen and -women on active duty in the United States, the Persian Gulf, and elsewhere around the world.

Mayor Beverly McAnally called and said that the group will place yellow ribbons throughout the City, on the trees and other City properties.

There is also a plan to create an honor roll for the soliders and to hold

New Flower Shop Opens

By Dave Atkins

A new flower shop called Romulus Flowers and Gifts has opened in Romulus on Merriman Road next to the Speedy Print Shop.

Kathy Mrazik, one of the new owners, is a former employee of Rush's Flowers in Romulus, where she worked for some 15 years. (She was the head flower arranger there for some time.)

Kathy says her goal as the "new kid on the block" is to furnish you with the finest floral arrangements available for the money you spend. She also has stated that she hopes to have a long and lasting relationship with her new and old customers.

It is good to have new business in town, especially business owned by people who are truly concerned with their customers. □

New Law Gives Landlords Power To Evict Drug Dealers

A new State law gives landlords more power to evict drug dealers from Federal, State, or local subsidized housing. Landlords may reclaim an apartment or house within seven days if the tenant possesses controlled substances on the premises. Previously, failure to pay rent, damage to the property, or behavior causing a serious health hazard were the only violations that fell under the seven-day eviction notices.

Assets Seized in Drug Raids Must Be Reported

A new State law requires local law enforcement agencies to report to the State the amount of money, property, or other assets seized in drug raids. The assets of drug dealers can be seized if they are the result of illegal drug activities, and money recovered is then used for anti-crime and anti-drug programs.

State Law Helps Families with "Special Needs" Adopted Children

A new State law allows families who have adopted children with "special needs" to recoup some of the one-time expenses associated with the adoption. The measure allows for State reimbursement of up to $2,000 in expenses, such as reasonable adoption fees, court costs, and attorney fees. The funds are drawn from the $12 million appropriated annually for the Michigan Adoption Subsidy Program and Federal funds for the State's foster-care program.

Metro Coney To Open

By Dave Atkins

At last! We are going to have a real Coney Island restaurant in Romulus. It will be located in the new shopping mall at Ecorse and Merriman roads, and will feature more than just Coney Island hot dogs (although that is their specialty).

The interior of the restaurant promises to be especially attractive, with soft pastel colors on the walls and tables. There should be plenty of seating and parking since it's located in the mall and the place is large — very large, to be a small business. They ain't foolin' around, folks, they are making a commitment to stay here.

Their menu features many types of fare, especially Greek food. You'll be able to choose from gyros, shish kebab, liver and onions, Greek salads, baklava, grilled cheese, corned beef, Reuben sandwiches, and a whole lot more.

Their opening date is targeted for February 11 if everything is okay with the Health Department (and I'm sure it should be). Stop in. . . Maybe I'll see you there. □ a recognition service for them. Anyone who has a loved one in the service and would like his or her name included on the list should contact the Mayor's office. (We at The Romulus News will be publishing the list in a future issue, and would be happy to include a photo of your loved one. There's no charge; just drop off the picture at our office.)

The whole thing is just now in the works, according to McAnally. She said that people are just now beginning to get really involved.

McAnally said that she will have a group gathering this week to put the yellow bows together for distribution throughout the City.

Meetings for this group will be held at City Hall. (We will keep you posted on the dates and times.)

It is important that we support the men and women in our armed services, especially the ones from the Romulus area. These people are in Saudi Arabia, fighting on foreign soil so that it won't be necessary to fight and spill blood on our own soil. Please support them with all that you can, especially your prayers. □

Local Businesses Need To Help in USO Canister Program

By Dave Atkins

Since the appearance, in the last issue of this paper (January 23, 1991), of my article about collection canisters being placed around the City for the benefit of the USO and local support groups for our troops, I have had calls from more local business people who want to get involved.

One of those people was Rita Grace, the owner of Daly's Drive-in on Huron River Drive. It seems that, on Monday, February 11, 10% of the entire day's receipts at Daly's will be donated to the canister there. The idea behind the event was brought to her by one of her employees. She thought it was a good one, and so do I.

So if, on February 11, you find that you're hungry or just in need of a cup of hot coffee, stop in at Daly's because you'll be helping our troops at the same time that you're helping yourself to something delicious!

Ron Brugger — owner of Romulus Auto Supply, Romulus Video, and Romulus Tanning — was the originator of the canister idea, and he and Landing Strip owner, Tom Nappo, paid for the first full-page advertisement in The Romulus News announcing the project. This time, Brugger is paying for the ad on his own and, in addition, he has volunteered to donate $100 from each of his businesses to the canisters.

Some of the canisters around the City are doing well, but some are doing very poorly. In other words, we all need to get more involved by dropping our loose change and dollar bills into these canisters. Remember, this money is for the best of causes: the benefit of our men and women in the service.

It rather surprises me that some of the major hotels and other businesses in town are not getting involved with this effort, since they are doing business here, and some of our men and women are fighting in Saudi Arabia so that they can stay here and do that business.

We at this paper would like to see more involvement from those who truly can afford to get involved. It seems that, as always, it is the little guy, the one with the small business, who gets involved. The ones who are constantly struggling and fighting a day-to-day battle just to survive are the ones who go out of their way to help when the need arises.

These men and women are fighting for everyone, not just a small few. It seems to me that everyone should take it upon themselves to help.

Canisters are located at the Polka-Dot Party Pantry, M & M Market, Stella's Restaurant, the Landing Strip, City Hall, Captain Nemo's, the Romulus IGA, the Kozy Korner Cafe, Romulus Hardware, Romulus Video, Romulus Auto Supply, Romulus Tanning, Romulus Lanes, and Walter's Bar.

If you would like a canister in your place of business, or know of a location where one can be placed, call Ron Brugger (941-1727) or The Romulus News (941-0990). □

It's a Point of Law

By Murray A. Duncan, Jr., Attorney

A bankruptcy does not discharge an individual from a debt owing to a spouse, former spouse, or child, in connection with a separation agreement.

In order for alimony to be nondischargeable, it must be shown that it is truly alimony and not merely a property settlement. Merely designating payment as alimony is insufficient to make the payment nondischargeable.

For example, a husband and wife divorce and the husband must pay $50 per week child support, $50 per week alimony, and a $5000 cash payment to the wife as part of a property settlement. After the divorce, the husband files bankruptcy. The support and alimony payments are nondischargeable. However, the cash payment is dischargeable and the husband would not have to pay it.

It is sometimes difficult to determine the nature of alimony. Payments on a home mortgage for the benefit of an ex-wife are sometimes considered alimony and nondischargeable in bankruptcy. The assumption of marital debts by the husband may be dischargeable in bankruptcy, thus leaving the ex-wife forced to pay the debts.

In short, bankruptcy can cause many problems to property settlements in a divorce proceeding and all parties should be aware of the consequences of a party filing bankruptcy after the divorce.

If you have a legal question that you would like answered, you may send your question to my office and I will attempt to address it in a future issue. Questions should be mailed to: Murray A. Duncan, Jr., 10000 South Wayne Road, Romulus, Michigan 48174. □

Soldiers Say Thanks to Kids

(Editor's note: Kindergarten and third-grade students at Barth Elementary School sent handmade cards to American troops in Saudi Arabia, and received the following letter of thanks in return.)

Dear Students in the Kindergarten and Third Grade Classes,

Thank you for the letters you sent to military personnel deployed in support of Desert Shield. Your letters were forwarded to the chapel at Taif, Saudi Arabia, where the 48th TFW (Provisional) is located. Your thoughtfulness and effort to write are greatly appreciated and did much to boost morale among assigned service members during the holiday season.

Please keep us in your prayers.

Postcards Support Troops

On Thursday, January 31, the Romulus High School boys' basketball team and its supporters (including City Councilman Pete Bergeron and former RHS players Terry Mills, Grant Long, and John Long) gathered in the High School gym in honor of our men and women in the U.S. military.

A team photograph was made and used to make postcards to send to our troops. Funding for the project will come from the sale of sweat shirts and t-shirts and raffles at home games.

At the same time, production of a "Say No to Drugs" poster began. The poster, which will include the 1991-92 basketball schedule, will be funded by Metro-World, the developer currently constructing the corporate center off Wick Road. □

WCCC Offers Lecture Series

"A Little Bit of This and a Little Bit of That," Wayne County Community College's (WCCC) free lecture series at the Western Campus in Belleville, presents experts on topics ranging from PMS to forensics.

Premenstrual syndrome (PMS) is a disorder that affects the entire family, according to Edward M. Lichten, M.D., director of the Women's Pain Management Center in Southfield. Lichten, a Nationally recognized PMS researcher and developer of innovative medical treatments for women who suffer from this syndrome, will talk about its symptoms, effects on family life, and how it can be controlled in his February 21 presentation, "PMS: A Family Affair, Not Just A Women's Problem."

"If a person suffering from PMS can't function, blows up frequently, can't drive her kids to school, and can't be counted on by her husband to function one week out of the month, this definitely affects the family," said Lichten. Fortunately, 80% of his cases improve tremendously with vitamins, progesterone, or other medical treatment.

The series will switch gears on March 20 when retired Ford Motor Co. executive Ed Holden talks about start-

RHS Students Attend Junior Achievement Luncheon

Students from the Romulus Junior Achievement (JA) Center attended the Economic Club of Detroit Luncheon/Meeting at Cobo Hall on Monday, January 28. The guest speaker was Albert Shanker, President, American Federation of Teachers, American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations (AFL-CIO).

Since 1949, Junior Achievement of Detroit and Southeastern Michigan has provided Economic Education for thousands of students. The programs include: the Traditional Center Program for ninth- through twelfth-grade students, the Applied Economics Computer Program for eleventh- and twelfth-grade students, Project Business for eighth- and ninth-grade students, and Business Basics for fifth- and sixth-grade students. The purpose of the Junior Achievement programs is to provide students with practical business experience. With the assistance of volunteers from the local business community, students gain insights into the complexities and rewards of the American Economic System. Throughout Detroit and southeastern Michigan, over 37,000 young people will participate in JA programs this year, making Junior Achievement of Detroit and Southeastern Michigan one of the largest programs of its type in the world. □

New Bus-stop Laws

New school-bus-stop laws, which took effect when school resumed in January, are providing a different "light look" for motorists at many bus stops, AAA Michigan and the Michigan State Police report.

Amendments to the Michigan school-bus-stop law, signed on December 20 by outgoing Governor James J. Blanchard, spell out guidelines for motorists to follow, depending on the buses' flashing lights system.

"How a driver responds when approaching or following a school bus depends on what lights are on and if the bus is moving or stopped," said Robert V. Cullen, AAA Michigan Community Safety Services manager.

Motorists should be familiar with the following situations.

On Buses with Overhead Red and Yellow Lights

This new lighting system is being phased in on all Michigan school buses. If overhead yellow lights are flashing, drivers should be prepared to stop, because flashing red lights are about to be activated. When overhead red lights are flashing, approaching and following motorists must come to a complete stop not closer than 20 feet from the stopped school bus. Drivers must not proceed until the signals are turned off.

On Buses with Overhead Red Lights Only

These buses with the standard overhead red light system will eventually be phased out. If the overhead red lights are flashing and the bus is moving, motorists should prepare to stop. When red lights are flashing and the bus is stopped, motorists must stop no closer than 20 feet from the bus. Drivers must not proceed until the signals are turned off.

All School Buses

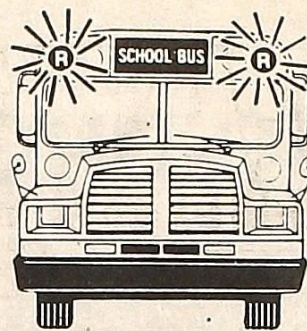

When yellow hazard lights are flashing (located midway or near front and back bumpers of bus) on a moving or stopped bus, motorists may proceed with caution past the bus.

Michigan's school-bus-stop law (P.A. 187), originally passed in July 1990, requires all new Michigan school buses to be fitted with yellow overhead lights in addition to the red lights currently on all buses. Retrofitting of old buses, though not required, is encouraged for more uniform and safer bus stops.

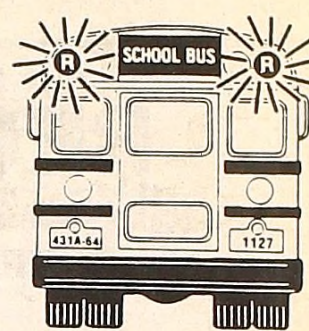

The amendments to P.A. 187 are designed to correct difficulties experienced by some districts. School districts were permitted to use a previous bus stop law in which red lights were activated 200 feet prior to the stop. This was for buses not fitted with overhead red and yellow lights.

The overhead red-and-yellow-light system is in use in 49 states. National studies have found that the system provides a much safer environment for students by reducing illegal passes of stopped buses.

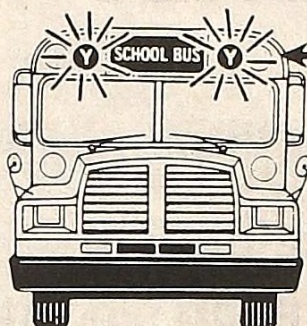

School Buses With Overhead Red Lights

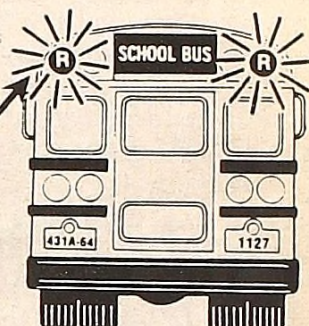

1. Overhead red lights are flashing and bus is moving — prepare to stop.
2. Overhead red lights are flashing and bus is stopped. Stop no closer than 20 feet from the bus.
3. Proceed when red lights are turned off.

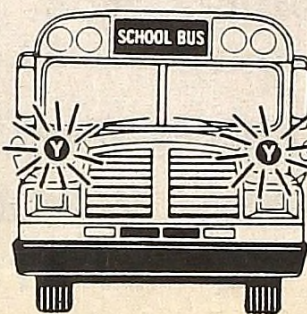

School Buses With Overhead Red and Yellow Lights

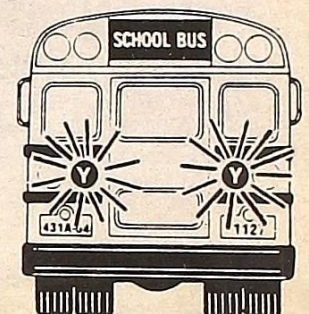

1. Overhead yellow lights are flashing — prepare to stop.
2. Overhead red lights are flashing. Stop no closer than 20 feet from the bus.
3. Proceed when red lights are turned off.

All School Buses

Yellow hazard warning lights are flashing on moving or stopped bus — proceed with caution.

Your Child's Education

By Randall S. Olson

As parents of a second and fifth grader, my wife and I are concerned about the quality of education that our children are receiving here in Romulus. It may come as a surprise to most of you, but, in Romulus, the school district allows up to as many as 35 children in one classroom with one teacher and, in many classrooms, the teacher is instructing two grades at the same time! Do the teachers like this? No! Do my wife and I like this? No! Now, ask yourself, "Could I instruct 35 children, ages seven and eight, and provide a quality education?"

The problem is mainly in the lower grades. Sure, it's nice to send your child off to school each day and have six hours to yourself, especially if you have an overactive child. What about the teacher who has 35 overactive children and he or she has to not only keep them in control, but instruct them! I challenge

Romulus Community Schools

RHS Volleyball

A recent victory over Ann Arbor Pioneer moved the varsity Eagle volleyball record to 20-10, with a 4-1 League mark.

Ann Arbor Huron's victory over Ypsilanti makes them 4-1 also, and sets up a crucial game with Huron on Wednesday, February 13, to possibly determine the League Championship.

Sue Molenda and Brooke Hammers had excellent nights against Pioneer, but the absence of Michele Scarrow from the lineup put a great deal of pressure on the defense to perform well.

"We didn't play defense at all against Adrian and lost that match," said Coach Gail Coleman, "and we knew that Pioneer would be tough on us if we didn't improve in that area."

Improve they did, as seniors Jennifer Daniel and Tammy Trubilowicz both played excellent defense with help from Angie Slawinski and Heide Bussard.

Next up for the Eagles will be the third annual Romulus Roman Invitational. The JV team will host a 10 team tournament on Wednesday, February 6, beginning at 3 p.m., while the varsity tournament will be held on Saturday, February 9, beginning at 8:30 a.m.

The Saturday competition looks to be excellent, as defending champion Clarenceville, which returns their lineup from last year, is sure to challenge the Eagle team as well as a solid team from Gabriel Richard.

It could be the best $3 buy in the area this Saturday. Come see the excitement at Romulus High School this weekend.

RHS Basketball

Recent losses to Adrian and Belleville and a victory over Ann Arbor Pioneer have brought the Eagle record to 8-5, with a 2-3 League standing.

Solid performances by Torrey Mills, Abu Hamilton, and Daniel Winston have keyed the Eagles recently. In Friday's 71-68 win over Pioneer, Hamilton scored 21 points while Winston added 16. Mills scored 39 points against Bedford in that 98-92 victory and was joined by a great offensive performance by John Dinkins (26 points), but, as was pointed out by Coach Chris Molloy recently, "If we don't play defense against these teams, we are in real trouble. Ninety-two [points] by Bedford, 88 by Adrian, and 98 by Belleville is not saying much about our defense, and, if this team tries to battle our opponents with offense, we usually are not going to fare real well."

The Eagles hope that their recent victory over Pioneer will help them regain their momentum in their upcoming "away games" against Ypsilanti (Friday, February 8, at 6 p.m.) and Willow Run (Tuesday, February 12, at 6 p.m.).

RHS Wrestling

On Saturday, the varsity wrestling team traveled to Adrian for the South Central Conference (SCC) Championship, where they performed very well, placing second in the League. Juniors Dale Gehringer and Mike Scully were both first-place finishers, while second-place finishes were taken by junior Jason Drouillard, sophomore Rob Graham, and freshman Tim Kilgore.

A recent victory over Ann Arbor Huron moved the Eagles to 3-1 in the League standings prior to the League meet, and moved their season record to 15-13.

Captains Dale Gehringer and Mike Scully look to be the best bets for the Eagles as they move into the individual and team State Championship competition this week.

On Wednesday, team districts will be held at Garden City High School, with the Romulus-Garden City match and the Wayne Memorial-John Glenn match beginning at 6 p.m. and the finals to follow later that evening.

On Saturday, the State individual districts will be held at Ann Arbor Huron beginning at 10 a.m. and, besides Dale and Mike, the coaching staff expects solid performances out of Leroy Prince, Brian McNett, Jason Schmidt, Felton Bush, Jason Drouillard, Rob Graham, and Jeff Filek.

"We are very young," said Coach Norman Butler, "and we will be facing some excellent talent in our district. Usually, many State champions qualify out of our district, and our young wrestlers are going to have to have quite a day to qualify. The thing that is great about this sport is that it's "one on one" and, if you are ready to do well on that day, anything can happen." □

RHS Students of the Month

By Daniel Hurst, Assistant Principal,
Romulus High School

On January 16, 1991, 47 Romulus High School students were honored in a brief ceremony recognizing them as December's "Students of the Month." These students were selected by their respective teachers for excelling behaviorally and academically during the month of December.

Students in attendance received a certificate of achievement and, thanks

Letters to the Editor

On January 28, 1991, I attended our School Board meeting. The main topic on the agenda was the renovation/remodeling of Barth, Wick, and Halecreek schools. The taxpayers of Romulus have given the schools $45 million to make our schools the best in the State.

At this meeting, the architects' presentation was made and questions were answered. As with any large renovation, there is much money being tossed about and many disagreements about what improvements are best made.

The most amazing thing to me was that there were only two people not associated with the schools present.

As taxpayers, we have given the School Board our money and free reign on how to spend it. There is no input or voice from the public because the public hasn't taken the time to come and voice their opinion. I don't know about you, but I wouldn't give my child a blank check and send him to a toy store... yet, this is exactly what we have done with the School Board. If the people of Romulus cannot be bothered to come to the School Board meetings and let their opinions be known, then I hope they realize that they cannot complain when the money is not spent in a way that they feel is appropriate.

Whether or not you have children in our schools, you do pay taxes and you should have a say. After all, they are called the Romulus Community Schools!

Celia Ann Chesno

(Editor's note: The next two letters refer to an article which appeared in the January 23, 1991 issues of The Romulus News and The Wayne News.)

It is the Romulus Post Office that is incompetent, not all post offices.

If you have something important to mail, use the Wayne Post Office.

I have mailed things to Wyandotte from Wayne in the afternoon of one day, to be shocked to hear that the receiver got it the next day.

On the other hand, I put a change of address at the Romulus Post Office, yet, on several occasions, I had to drive out to the old house to pick up mail that had my Wayne address tape on over Romulus, but was still delivered to Romulus.

I could tell you several stories about the Romulus Post Office, but the bottom line is, Romulus Post Office is a joke.

I would be embarrassed to work there, knowing what a lot of Romulus citizens think of their service.

Karen L. Covert

I think your front-page editorial, "Postal Rate Hike Is the Biggest Joke of the Century," was unfair to the Post Office and its employees. Any business that handles millions of pieces of mail every day is bound to make a mistake once in a while.

If you think postage rates are too high, try picking up your telephone and see how far you can call for 29 cents. Or get into your automobile and see how far you can drive for 29 cents.

Did you know that the Post Office is providing free mail service to our soldiers in the Middle East? How many businesses do you know of that are offering their services, free of charge, to our men and women over there?

Mark F. Sadows

Editor's note: I certainly agree with you! I also think that anyone who handles millions of pieces of mail regularly should be allowed a mistake once in a while.

On the other hand, if they have all the sophisticated equipment that they brag about, there should be no room for error except for the "once in a while." The trouble is, however, that the "once in a while" seem to increase right along with the soaring postal rates.

Frankly, I wouldn't have the job of a mail carrier; they work very hard for what they earn. It is not the carriers that I blame; it is the people who (I believe) are inefficient in the sorting and bundling (should I have said "bungling"?) departments and the supervisory personnel involved in the everyday working of the postal service.

When I receive mail that has been literally trampled on and delivered days late, I call that ridiculous. When I see the service we get for what we spend, I call that dastardly.

You ask how long I can talk on a telephone for 29 cents? I can talk long enough to say whatever I was going to say in a letter, and, as far as the distance is concerned, you can call many places in the United States — literally long-distance, out-of-state calls — for 29 cents or less, and still get your message across.

The trouble with the phone company, as with most of the utilities (I consider a phone a utility), is that the government gives them too much freedom to do to you as they please, and you have absolutely nothing to say. How many times have you ever in your life heard of a utility company being turned down for a rate increase? Why does the government allow utilities and the post office to charge us when they make a bad business deal? Can you speculate that you'll make $50,000 this year and, when you don't make that much, have everyone in the Country pay the difference to you, regardless of the reason for that difference? Absolutely not.

There is so much waste in the postal service (as in many other government agencies) that it makes you sick to your stomach.

As far as free postal service for our soldiers in the Middle East is concerned, maybe you should check out your facts because they're all wet.

As a matter of fact, I received, just today, a call from a Romulus resident who told me that just the opposite is true. Her husband is in the Middle East, Sorry, I have a problem with the post office, just as many others (many of whom called me in agreement with my editorial) do.

I appreciate your letter and your support of this paper; however, I really think that you should check out all the facts before you send me a letter like this. There are good postal employees, as there are good employees in every branch of government, but, as always, the few bad make it bad for the many good, and the government is going to continue wasting my money (what little I have) and yours.

I thank you for your concern. □

ing and maintaining a successful business. He'll explain what questions to ask and what pitfalls to avoid in his talk, "Getting Started in Business: Developing the Plan."

Holden said that most new businesses are service-oriented and, by the year 2000, half of the enterprises in the U.S. will be owned or run by women. He is a member of SCORE, the Service Corps of Retired Executives, which provides free business counseling for those entering business.

The final lecture, on April 17, takes a long look at the fascinating science of forensics and how it helps identify human remains in criminal investigation.

In his talk, "Bones and the Law," Dr. Norman Sauer will use slides of actual cases to show how a person's profile (age, gender, height, etc.) can be reconstructed from a human skeleton. Sauer is a three-time winner of the Outstanding Teacher Award from the Michigan State University Department of Anthropology and is a consultant to the Michigan State Police.

All lectures in the series are open to the public, free of charge, and begin at 7 p.m. in the Atrium of WCCC's Western Campus, located at 9555 Haggerty Road, Belleville.

"We have a great variety of topics this year," said Carolyn Chapin, student affairs coordinator at the Western Campus. "We hope a lot of people will take advantage of these opportunities to hear some wonderful speakers."

For additional information, phone Chapin at 699-0200. □

Little League Baseball

By Wade Cupps, President

Now that we are in the off season, many players and parents may think that Little League Baseball is not still active in our community. Actually, the process of putting together the enormous volunteer effort for the 1991 season has already begun.

The Board of Directors has been busy assembling the framework of a new season in Romulus Little League.

The divisions of our league are T-Ball, Minor, Major, Junior, Senior, and Big League.

We expect to return with six T-Ball teams this year. T-Ball is played by six-, seven-, and eight-year-olds in a non-competitive environment. We envision some of the T-Ball schedule to be played on a new, third field at Mt. Pleasant, as well as on the two fields already there.

We are looking for eight teams to play in the Minors division this year. The Minors play on a 60-foot base path and utilize a pitcher to deliver the ball to the batter. The division is basically made up of boys and girls ages eight, nine, and 10, although special circumstances may indicate that some 11- and 12-year-olds might develop their skills here as well. Twelve-year-olds, however, may not pitch in the Minors.

This is an excellent place for adult volunteers to begin an association with Little League Baseball. The Minor Division is strictly instructional in competitive terms; however, scorebooks are kept here on individual games, even through there are no standings for the season. Many of our Majors coaches and managers begin development of their skills here.

At present, we are seeking a Minor League Player Agent to represent this division on the Board of Directors and to serve as a liaison between the Board and the managers.

The Major League is the flagship of Little League Baseball. In fact, it is the only division we are required to field in order to remain affiliated with the National Little League. This year should see the return of six teams: Blue Jays, Reds, Tigers, Astros, Angels, and A's. The new schedule will be expanded to 20 games in order to better prepare our 12-year-olds for All-Star competition in July.

A new wrinkle this year is the separation of the 13-year-olds into a Junior Division. Our Juniors will play a combined schedule for the first time with Taylor Northwest Little League. Many 12-year-old players from last season have expressed the opinion that more players will move up as a result of this change because, now, they will not be looking at a year of playing substitute while the older players make up the regulars and play the infield. In the Juniors, all the players are 13.

Similarly, our Senior Division is expected to benefit by this new structure.

Now, the Senior divisions will draw on players who are all 14 and 15 years old. This will automatically increase the level of competition. Add into the equation the State Championship level of competition they will face from Taylor Northwest, as well as a look ahead to the improved drafts coming from the Juniors, and you'll see that the Senior Division should provide exciting baseball of a new dimension.

And, speaking of championship-level baseball, the Romulus Big League (made up of 16-, 17-, and 18-year-old players) is back. Bigger, better, and stronger than ever, the Romulus Big League is on the attack, returning to defend its District 5 Championship against all comers.

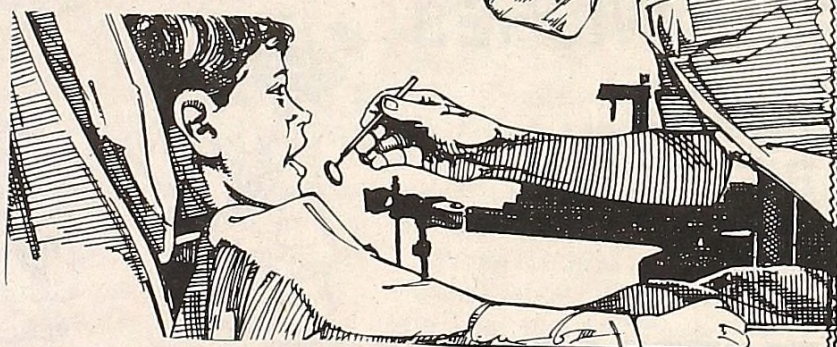

Registration for T-Ball through Seniors will be held at the Romulus Recreation Center (on Bibbins at Shook) on the following dates: Wednesday, February 13, from 6 to 7 p.m.; Saturday, February 16, from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.; and Wednesday, February 20, from 6 to 7 p.m. The registration fee is $20 per player, or $30 for two or more players from the same family. (Please note: all first-time players must bring birth certificates.) Players will be expected to participate in a candy-sale fund-raiser again this year. Improved prizes will be provided for those selling more than one case of candy. □

Artists Wanted

The Romulus Arts Council is looking for a few good artists within the Romulus community.

A public exhibition is being planned to showcase the talents of local people.

Anyone who would like to nominate an artist or receive further information should contact the RAC by calling either 941-2678 or 941-0558. □

Contest: Design a Valentine

The Romulus Public Library is currently conducting its annual "Design a Valentine" contest, which will continue through Wednesday, February 13. To participate, children are asked to design a Valentine and bring it to the Library (11121 Wayne Road, next to City Hall), where it will be put on display. All participants may enter a drawing for the special prize. The lucky winner will be notified on Wednesday, February 13.

For more information, please call 942-7589. □

A Celebration of Youth

The Romulus Community Organization Team will sponsor its annual Black History Program, entitled "A Celebration of Youth," on Sunday, February 17, 1991, in the Burton Building (Wayne Metro Community Services Building, 35408 Beverly Road, Romulus) at 1:30 p.m.

Youth choirs from several churches will participate in this year's program, as well as youths performing readings and/or poetry. Anyone interested in participating may contact Mrs. Eunice Johnson at 941-9590, no later than February 7, 1991. □ any one of you to spend just one full day in your son's or daughter's classroom and either assist the teacher or just observe. If you still don't feel that this is a problem, then let me give you one example of what I am talking about.

Your son or daughter is in a second-grade class that has 35 students; some are first graders and the rest are second graders. The teacher is trying to teach reading skills. She may have to instruct them at four different levels. Level one is the young first graders who are just starting to learn how to read. Level two is the older first graders who know the basics and are ready to move on. Level three is the young second graders who are having trouble with the second-grade reading level. Last is level four, the older second graders who are reading at almost the third-grade level.

Now, in this group of 35, there are one or two students who are having a bit of trouble, but, with a little individual attention, it can be worked out. Do you see the problem? That child could be your child and will miss out on the most important subject taught in school.

By now, I hope you are asking yourself, "How can I help?" The answer is, get involved! Attend the School Board meetings and voice your opinions. Go to your son's or daughter's teacher and ask, "How can I help?" Get involved with the PTO and attend the meetings. Remember, together we can make a difference and, after all, what is more important than the education and future of our children? □

Romulus Cop Called to Active Duty

By Dave Atkins

Detective John Myers of the Romulus Police Department recently departed for Fort Benning, Georgia, to continue his service in our military.

Myers, a detective sergeant, is also a sergeant in the military (a master sergeant, if you please!). His job is that of intelligence in the Infantry Intelligence Brigade. At Fort Benning, he will take over the training of both new troops and the reserves now being called up. His term is initially for one year, but could possibly be extended if the war in the Gulf lasts longer than that.

Myers, who makes his home in the City of Taylor along with his wife and three children, served two terms in Vietnam and has accumulated service time, between the reserves and active duty, of 19 years. He could possibly retire after one more year of duty.

Since his departure, the Romulus Detective Bureau is short one man; it is not known, at this time, whether or not he will be replaced, since there is at least one other Romulus police officer who may be called to active duty.

Our thoughts and prayers are with Sergeant John Myers and his family. Hopefully, his complete tour of duty will be stateside and he will return to Romulus to continue the fine detective work he has always done.

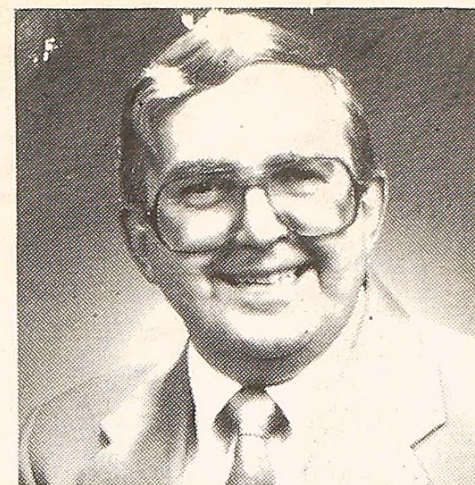

Myers was the fifth officer hired by the Romulus Police Department when the department was first formed. □

Integrated Technology

By Art McPharlin, Administrative Assistant to the Superintendent, Romulus Community Schools

The Romulus School District is on its way to being one of the most successful school districts in the Nation by the infusion of multimedia technology in each building. The buildings will be equipped with an Integrated Information System (IIS), which will use a combination of copper wire and fiber-optics to deliver instructional information to each classroom in the form of voice, video, and data transmissions. The system will enable students and teachers to access information from the library, the local community, or from around the world, and bring it into the classroom via telephone, computer, and/or video sources. The system is designed to help teachers and students develop the information-gathering skills necessary to work in the emerging Information Age.

The classrooms will be designed to provide electronic work stations, where students and teachers can use computers and specialized software to enhance the learning process. These types of systems will give more students the opportunity to progress in a more orderly fashion through the acquisition of essential skills.

The use of this type of building infrastructure will provide an open system that will function with very little modification for many years to come.

A part of the integrated technology is an integrated learning system (ILS) that will provide desk-top technology so computers will become a major educational tool, focusing on higher-level thinking skills, word processing, learning tools on-line, and word-processing skills. Local classroom printing will be an integral part of the ILS selected.

Mother/Son Valentine Dance

What better way to celebrate Valentine's Day than by attending a dance with your little Valentine(s)?

Of course, there will be dancing, punch and cookies, a flower for that special lady, and a unique gift as a remembrance of the evening.

If Mom can't attend, maybe Grandma, Aunt, or even Big Sister can.

The Mother/Son Valentine Dance will be held at the Junior High School (on Wick Road) from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. on Thursday, February 14. The cost is $4 per couple, or $5 if more than one son escorts Mom. Tickets are available at the Recreation Office, and must be purchased in advance by 5 p.m. on Tuesday, February 12.

Call 942-6852 for more information.

Little League Baseball

Registration for T-Ball through Seniors will be held at the Romulus Recreation Center on the following dates: Wednesday, February 13 (6 to 7 p.m.); Saturday, February 16 (11 a.m. to 1 p.m.); and Wednesday, February 20 (6 to 7 p.m.). The registration fee is $20 per child, or $30 for two or more players in the same family. (Please note: first-time participants must bring birth certificates.)

Saturday Youth Recreation

A Youth Recreation Program will be held at Wick Elementary School every Saturday through April 13. The sessions for children of elementary and junior high age are scheduled for 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.; sessions for high school students are set for 2 to 4 p.m. (Romulus Schools ID must be shown.) The cost of each session is 50¢ for elementary and junior high students, and $1 for high school students. (Note: Any damage to basketball rims or other school property will end the program.)

Youth After-school Program

Youth After-school Programs are now being held in all Romulus elementary schools. Third and fourth graders attend the program on Mondays and Wednesdays, while sessions on Tuesdays and Thursdays are for fifth and sixth graders. (Programs run from 3:30 to 5 p.m. at Cory and Wick, and from 2:45 to 4:45 p.m. at Barth, Halecreek, and Merriman.) Program activities will include basketball (now through February 22), and volleyball (February 25 through March 27).

The cost is only $12 per participant, which covers instruction, games, adult supervision, and transportation. (There will be a few scholarships allotted to each school site for those unable to pay the program fee. To apply for the scholarship, a parent must come to the Recreation office and complete a scholarship form. The information provided is confidential.) Students can register for the program on their first day of attendance. Permission slips are available in each school's office.

The Recreation Department is still looking for a few more individuals who are interested in working with kids in this program. Please call 942-6852 if you are interested.

Drop-in Programs

The Recreation Department's Drop-in Programs are held according to the following schedule: Co-ed Volleyball (Mondays from 6:30 to 9 p.m. at North Junior High; $1/evening), Teen Basketball (Wednesdays from 6:30 to 9 p.m. at Halecreek; 75¢/evening), and Men's Basketball (Thursdays from 6:30 to 9 p.m. at North Junior High; $1/evening). For more information, call the Recreation Office at 942-6852.

Quilting Classes

Quilting classes for people of all skill levels are held from 7 to 9:30 p.m. on Thursdays in the Recreation Building. The fee is $1 per evening; preregistration is not required.

Ceramics Classes

Day (1 to 3 p.m.) and evening (6 to 8 p.m.) Ceramics Classes are held on Mondays at the Recreation Building. The cost for each class is $1 for residents and $1.50 for nonresidents, and the firing cost is one-half the greenware fee. (Senior citizens receive free firing in the day class.) Preregistration is not required.

Romulus Rovers Walking Club

Whether you like to move at a snail's pace or racing speed (or anywhere in between), the Romulus Rovers Walking Club can accommodate you. For more information, please call 942-6852.

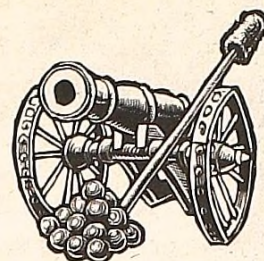

Recreation Hotline

Now there's a new, easy way to stay on top of Recreation/Senior activities here in Romulus. Call the Romulus Recreation Hotline, 941-6040, for a prerecorded message. □ structional media center.

The teacher will have access to a large variety of courseware and tools from the central file server (i.e., reading, math, science, writing, and an encyclopedia set).

Although the School District is off to a good start in evaluating systems and platforms that will meet our needs, much work lies ahead. Only time will tell the impact that this project will have on increasing student learning. My bet is that we will succeed. Our vision is that ILS will become so common, so well-used, and so accepted, that their presence in a classroom will be taken for granted. □
